

ABSTRACT

- 1 A cooling fan is characterized in jointing the bottom edges of all the fan
- 2 leaves of a fan body to a common baseplate closely without any clearance.
- 3 Therefore, turbulence could be thoroughly eliminated for promoting cooling
- 4 efficiency when the fan body is driven to rotate.